

Membership Application

The FHBA Young Building Professionals Council (YPB) is the voice of young professionals in the building industry — Its purpose is to attract and retain young talent in the construction industry and related trades; as well as to get involved in every level of the association federation. Through education, professional development and networking opportunities, YBP helps members acquire and develop invaluable leadership and business management skills that boost career success. The council also offers various national recognition programs, scholarships and awards.

*Applicants must be a primary member or employee of a member company in good standing of the Florida Home Builders Association. To qualify as a FHBA Young Building Professionals Council member, members must be under the age of 45 at the start of their membership.
